PERSONAL ELECTRONIC DEVICES/PERSONAL CELL PHONES

Definition

A portable communication device refers to any device, carried, worn or stored by a student or staff member to receive or communicate messages. Such devices may include, but are not limited to, portable pagers, hand-held radios, iPods, and cellular phones. This definition will also include any new technology developed for similar purposes. Excluded from this definition is any device with communication capabilities which has been approved for instructional purposes.

Staff

The Chesterfield Township Board of Education recognizes a school teaching staff member may need to make personal communications during his/her workday. In the event the staff member must make a personal call during his/her workday, the school staff member may make a personal call using his/her personal electronic communication device during the staff member's duty free lunch or break periods and/or preparation periods for teaching staff. Personal calls shall be made outside the presence of students either in an area inside or outside the school building designated by the staff member's building principal or immediate supervisor.

A personal call by a school staff member on his/her personal electronic communication device shall not be made while the staff member is performing assigned school district responsibilities.

Students are responsible to ensure that their cell phones are in silent mode or turned off and out of sight.

Individual classroom arrangements may be made by teaching staff with the principal for the use of personal communication devices as part of the instructional program.

Because of the threat to privacy and the integrity of individual students and staff members and the educational program, the use of a camera function or other recording function of a cell phone and other electronic devices is strictly prohibited on school premises or at school activities. The use of cell phones and other electronic devices is prohibited in restrooms.

Permitted Use

Cell phones and other electronic devices may be used before the instructional school day and after the official dismissal at the end of the instructional school day provided such use does not create a distraction or disruption.

Cell phones and other electronic devices are not to be used by students participating in before-school or after-school activities unless approved by the staff member in charge.

Cell phones and other electronic devices are not to be used on the school bus or commercial buses used for field trips or other school activities unless approved by the staff member in charge.

This prohibition does not apply to the to the following case, provided the superintendent, principal or other designated administrator approves, in advance, the use of a telephone: A student who has a need for a telephone due to the medical condition of an immediate family member.

Policy Implementation

Any staff member having knowledge or reasonable suspicion of the unauthorized possession or use of an electronic device/cell phone/pager ("beeper") by a student should promptly report this information to the principal or his/her designee.

Any student who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action which may include, but is not limited to, parental/guardian notification, confiscation and privilege denial.
